Baptist Union Service. The Baptist congregations of the city and vicinity will hold a union service at the First Baptist Church to-morrow evening. The occasion is the annual meeting of their mission board, through which medium is carried on the extension of their work in the city and suburbs. The board has been organized for five years, and the results of its work have been very encouraging. The meeting will be devoted to the city mission interests; reports, short addresses and special music will take the place of the usual evening service. These annual meetings have become a feature of

SEWAGE IN THE WELL

Bad Specimen of Drinking Water Comes to the City Chemist.

Board of Safety Lets Fighting Firemen Off-Frank Wilson Made a Detective-Board of Works.

From analyses made by the city chemist, Dr. Hurty, it would seem that the water used for drinking purposes on South West street is not the most conducive in the world to good health. A number of typhoid case on that thoroughfare led to an investigation of the condition of the neighborhood. The waters from a number of wells were taken to the city chemist and he saw at once that analyses were hardly necessary to show that the water was wholly unfit for drinking purposes. At 452 South West there are three cases of typhoid fever in a family. It was easy to determine the cause of this at one glance at the water. The water contained bugs, worms, had a bad odor and showed the presence of chlorine and nitrites in such abundance as to leave no doubt as to the presence of sewage in the well. At 355 South West there is one case of typhoid. The family is supplied with water from a driven well said to be forty feet deep. The water was of a yellow color and showed the same conditions as the water from the other place. Water taken from a well at 228 South West was very dirty, of yellowish-green color and pregnant with chlorine and nitrites. This shows that in nearly every case the sewage came from adjacent vaults, the foul liquids percolating through the soil. If coal oil or salt is thrown in a vault that is near a well, the well will soon show traces of the oil or salt. Dr. Hurty thinks that it is a good way to condemn a well by throwing several gallons of crude oil into a vault near it. He says that typhoid is almost always caused from water, and seldom from food. The water of a number of other wells in different localities has been submitted to him, and he is now engaged in analyzing the water.

BOARD OF SAFETY.

Firemen Get Off Ensily-Frank Wilson Made a Detective. Charles McDonald and Fred Frazier, the two firemen at headquarters suspended for fighting, appeared before the Board of Safety, last night, and explained that they were very sorry, would fight no more, and, in fact, had determined to be friends. They are both good firemen, and the board let them off with the four days' loss of time during their suspension. The resignation of John E. Engle as clerk to the superintendent of police was accepted, and Eugene F. Harris was appointed in his place. Commissioner White recommended that Frank Wilson be appointed to fill the vacancy on the detective force. Wilson is a Democrat, and was formerly chief of police. He has also served on the detective force, and was for some time foreman of the Sentinel composing room. He was appointed, and the force is evenly divided politically. The transfer of fireman Irish to the police force and patrolman Smith to the fire force will be made as soon as Chief Webster makes his official recom-

Chief Thomas, of the Merchants' police, wanted the board to allow the Merchant police to wear stars instead of shields, but the board declined to make the change.

John Ballard, a Merchant policeman, was granted police powers. Policemen Krueger army deserter, will not get the reward offered by the army. The communication from Controller Trus-ler relative to the salaries of the chief fire engineer and assistants was referred to the city attorney for an opinion.

The board will consider the matter of moving the hay market back to its old place on the East market at the next meeting, the first Monday in December. BOARD OF WORKS.

Contract Let for a Long North End Alley-Notes. The Board of Works, yesterday, let the contract for the brick alley, east of Meridian, from Seventh street to the first alley south of Twelfth street. Browder & Shover were the lowest bidders and they received the contract. Their bid was $1.77 a lineal foot on both sides, for Wabash clay brick, No. L. with Portland cement filling. The Capital Paving Company bid $2.10 on the same specifications and the Indiana Paving Brick Company, $1.91. The Acme Paving Company bid $1.87 on the same brick with tar filling.

Board of Works Notes. W. A. Conner called attention to the bad condition of Orange avenue. The street-car company was asked to raise its tracks at Delaware and Market to conform with the grade of the street. The street commissioner was ordered to make a ditch in Twenty-fifth street to relieve the drainage at the intersection of

W. G. Wasson & Co. were given the contract for putting down cement walks at the corners of Walnut and Illinois streets at 17 cents a square foot. The board told Councilman Murphy that it would improve Pendleton avenue if the city attorney holds that the avenue is a public highway in the city limits. Dr. H. R. Allen complained of the condition of Tennessee, just above Ohio, on the west side of the street. It is claimed that water stands six inches in the gutter. A citizen living at No. 953 North Ala-bama informed the board that he will not pay for the cement walk in front of his property unless it is put in better shape. John Hamm reported that the asphalt at Illinois and Maryland does not conform with the Maryland brick. The engineer will see which paving company is at fault, Final estimates were allowed as follows: Grading and graveling first alley east of East street, between Rockwood and first alley south, $112.50; grading and bowldering first alley north of South, between first alley west of Noble and first alley east of East, $465.36; grading and bowldering first alley east of East, from South to first alley north of South, $99.40; Elder avenue, De-

The Hospital Milk. The city chemist has also been making an analysis of the milk furnished the City Hospital at the request of Superintendent Ferguson who began to suspect a week or so ago that the milk was watered. The first sample analyzed by the chemist showed that the milk contained not less than 15 per cent, more water than the law allows a good, dutiful cow to put in her milk. The second sample examined a few days afterward showed that the surplus per cent, of water was not less than 1 and the contractor was notified. He told the superintendent that he would change the food of his cows and as a result the last sample examined showed a rich milk. The city chemist thinks he put shingles on his cows. To ascertain whether or not this milk was an exceptional quality the superintendent obtained a quantity furnished the Surgical Institute by the same con-tractor and it was found that the quality

Beyond the Limit.

It would seem that the late Sullivan administration was in greater ignorance of what was contained in the city charter than a politician in the Fiji islands. Every day facts are disclosed showing where the charter has been clearly violated. The charter provides that the bailiff of the Police Court shall not receive more than $900 a year, yet the old Council raised the salary $000 a year. The controller says that Sailiff Schwab is in debt to the city, and that Balliff Dawson must take the old sal-

Mystic Tie Lodge Celebrates Its Twenty-Fifth Anniversary.

An Elaborate Banquet Which the Wives and Sweethearts of the Members Attended-The Toasts.

Mystic Tie Lodge, No. 398, F. A. and M. celebrated its twenty-fifth anniversary last night with an elaborate banquet, for which over three hundred plates were set. It was the first banquet the lodge has given in celebrating its anniversary, although the day has always been marked by an entertainment of some sort. The wives and sweethearts are not forgotten on this occasion, for it is one time in the year when they never question the wisdom of "going to lodge." They were at the banquet last night and lent their gentleness to the refinement of the affair. The halls and reception rooms of the Denison were crowded when the orchestra began the march for the entrance to the dining room. The tables were placed in short rows across the room and were appropriately decorated with flowers. Charles P. Lesh, W. M. of the lodge, served as toast master, John L. Mc-Master making the welcoming address. The programme was opened with an invocation by ex-Governor Chase and the banquet followed. The music of the evening was a feature. A quartet consisting of C. J. Parker, jr., S. G. Woodward, M. D. Butler and C. H. Clark, the Masonic Glee Club, gave several numbers, the first of which was "I Long for Thee." Mrs. S. L. Morrison sang "Little Boy Blue" and Mrs. Addie C. Strong Engle read an original poem, "An Offering to Mystic Tie."

ows: "Mystic Tie Lodge and Twenty-five Years of Masonry," by Rev. Willis D. Engle; "The Craft," Wilbur F. Browder; "The Mason's Best Girl," by Rev. J. A. Rondthaler; "Our Honored Dead, Their Widows and Orphans," by Dr. L. L. Todd; "The Riding of the Goat," by Henry C. Adams; "The Mason and the Parson;" "Twenty-five Years to Come," by Gen. James R. Carnahan. Late in the night the banquet was brought to a close by all joining in singing "Auld Lang Syne." The menu ran from blue points through quall on toast down to coffee and nuts.

Mystic Tie Lodge was organized on Nov.

Mystic Tie Lodge was organized on Nov. 24, 1868, in the rooms on the top floor of the Aetna Building on Pennsylvania street, with seventeen charter members. The lodge now has 264 members. Ex-Mayor John Caven was the first master and William S. Coen, now deceased, the first secretary. Charles P. Lesh is now the master and Willis D. Engle the secretary. The lodge has seen many of its members reach prominent positions in life. Five of them have become thirty-third degree Masons, many of them reaching the thirty-second. Three or four ex-Mayors, as many unsuccessful candidates for the same office and one ex-Governor are members of the lodge. Mys-tic Tie has always responded to charities, and its prompt action at the time of the Johnstown flood, Ohio river floods and other calamities is well known.

THE DRAMATIC CLUB.

Two Bright Comedies Given-Excellent Work of the Members.

The first entertainment of the Dramatic Club for this season was given last evening in the Assembly Hall of the Propylaeum, and there was a large attendance of members and of guests from out of town. The hall was brilliantly illuminated and an orchestra furnished excellent music for the overture between acts and after the performance. The plays for the evening were in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Fraser, Miss Newcomer and Miss Moore, and their attention to the details made the plays that much more enjoyable. "I Dined with My Mother," a one-act piece, was the long one of the programme. The leading part was taken by Miss Elizabeth Dye, who has ability for acting and whose appearances before the Dramatic Club have given her experience, so that in whatever she does there is a grace and finish which are very commendable. Mrs. William M. Taylor took the part of a maid, and gave it with a nicety that was delightful. Mr. Newton Booth Tarkington, who is recognized as the star of the club, played the part of the artist well, as he does everything. The other parts were taken by Mr. Clifford Arrick, the prince; Mr. W. M. Taylor, the chevalier; Mr. Walter Williams, chef; Mr. Frederick Ayres, coachman; Mr. Hugh Richards, servant, and Messrs, Jacquelin Holliday and William Coburn, footmen. The play was received with every evidence of pleasure by the members and guests.

A short comedy, for two, was "Nettle," and was presented by Miss Eleanor Allen and Mr. James T. Wright. It was a gem, and was like a water-color or a pastel, clean cut as a cameo. Both had evidently made their parts their own and it moved with smoothness from first to last. The social part followed the play and the orchestra made the music. Those who had participated in the plays were the recipients of many compliments from all the members. The evening marked one of the best presentations which the club has had since its organization. The members are acquiring the ease and grace before the footlights of professionals and their performances will stand much of the criticism which is given to the latter. The Dramatic Club is one of the leading organizations of the State, and is getting a reputation which is well worth the hard work which many of the members put into it.

TO-DAY'S FOOTBALL.

Light Artillery and the Zigzag Teams to Line Up.

The old Y. M. C. A. Park will be the scene of an unusually hard-fought game of football this afternoon when the Indianapolis Light Artillery and the Zigzag teams struggle for the pigskin. Both teams include players well-known on the gridiron field, and both teams have been training hard for the game. The Zigzag has played several games this season, and suffered several defeats. Several of Butler's players will be with them to-day. Their team work | the agency. A large number of men will has been strengthened under the coaching of Minor, a well-known DePauw player. The Artillery team, composed of men well known for their grit and co-operative work on many a drill field, contains some very strong players, but this will be their first match game. Barnes, of the University of Pennsylvania, has been coaching the team, and it is expected to put up a stiff game in consequence. The average weight of the team is 175 pounds. The rush line is one that could have withstood Achilles and the other good ones at Troy. The admission fee will go to the athletic fund of both teams. The following is the order in which the teams will line up: ARTILLERY.

The Unemployed Meet and Pass Resolutions Against Mr. Gold.

An Adjournment Sine Die-Street Car Company Roasted and Then Asked for Favors.

The meeting of the unemployed held in the Criminal Court room last night was not as largely attended as former meetings and when the meeting adjourned it was sine die, W. H. H. Tuttle presided over last night's meeting and in his opening remarks said that the people of the city were now awakening to the situation. He said that the committee with headquarters in the carpenters' headquarters had furnished relief in from five to ten cases a day aside from the relief furnished by the Commercial Club committee in cases reported to them by the other committee. He also said that it had been reported that persons had applied to the Commercial Club for relief and no relief was given and asked that if any such cases were known that they be reported at last night's meeting but none were reported. The reports of committees were first called for and Mr. Miller reported that he had seen one of the directors of the German-American Building and Loan Asso-

Harry Roberts, of the relief committee, said the committee not only found the distress to be as widespread as had been reported, but found that the reports did not tell all that existed and cited instances where the committee found the distress to be even greater than was reported to them. Carey Smith, a tinner, had a proposition for the establishment of a relief bureau which he submitted to the meeting, but no action was taken upon it. It was as

"The establishment of a relief bureau incorporated under the State laws of Indiana, with a constitution and by-laws and a capital stock, to be agreed upon, with officers under sufficient bond. The bureau to receive money from the public to be loaned to the public; the necessary capital to be accumulated by deposits from individuals in sums according to inclination. The stockholders to receive net profits annually pro rata. The money to be loaned at the rate of say about 6 per cent, per annum. The borrowers can obtain money on gold and silver at, say two-thirds the value, and other property at, say one-half value, the value to be determined by a competent appraiser. Loans to be made, also, upon promisory notes with, say two responsible indorsers, for a limited amount. Loans to be payable on or before one year from date, and extended on full pay-ment of interest. Officers to receive a moderate salary, and economical quarters for carrying on the affairs of the bureau to be provided. The value of such a bureau can hardly be estimated at this moment, for it would be beneficial in numerous

The street-car company was the subject of considerable comment, and it was anything but complimentary to that corporation. John Nelson, a painter, residing in the northwestern part of the city, said that he had registered his name at the Commercial Club and received a letter to the street-car company, which had announced that i would give employment to one thousand men. This letter, he says, he presented to the foreman of the gang at work on North Pennsylvania street, and the foreman refused to look at it. He said he then went to Blake street, where he met with the same reception. While he was on the floor he took occasion to criticise Trustee Gold, who was also scored in resolutions which were afterwards adopted. He said that after he had been out of work till he found himself in debt for food, rent and gas, he went to Trustee Gold and told him that the gas company was threatening to shut off hi gas, and was met with the reply, "Well wait till they do shut it off before you begin to cry." The resolutions in which the Trustee was scored referred to a publication from him in the News, in which he said that there was not nearly so much distress as was generally believed, and that a great many of the complaints were by professional beggars. This was denounced as a slur upon the intelligent workingman, who was not only willing, but anxious, to work for the support of his family.

Resolutions were also adopted declaring it the sense of the meeting that the streetcar company should be called upon to furnish the relief committee with free transportation in doing their mission work. There was considerable opposition to the adoption of these resolutions by persons who thought it beneath their dignity to ask favors of the street-car company. It was carried by a vote of 48 to 47.

AT THE COMMERCIAL CLUB BUREAU. Work of Registering Continues-Labor Found for Some.

There was a perceptible falling off of applicants to the Commercial Club's bureau of employment yesterday. About a thousand men and women have registered up to the present time, a portion of whom have been given employment. Yesterday morning fifty men sent to the sewer excavations on Johnton and Davidson streets were put to work by the contractors. It was soon found that the ground had frozen during the night and that it would be difficult for shovelers to work to any advantage. The men were dismissed, and returned to the Commercial Club somewhat excited. They were told that just as soon as the weather would admit of work they would be summoned 200 admit of work they would be summoned again. The clerk in charge of the registration office strikes, occasionally, some queer subjects. Yesterday afternoon a brawny Irishman, who possessed the mother wit and eloquence of his race, dropped in to state that he was out of work. While his blank was being filled out he recited dramatically a few selections from the poets relative to the lot of the downtrodden. Then the orator launched forth into a political harangue, and was informed that his comments upon national questions must be delivered in some other quarter. A small number of carpenters and brick masons were yesterday given employment by private citizens through the agency of the club. Dr. L. Witt, of No. 459 South Meridian street, and Dr. Rose McFall have offered their services in a medical way and will treat the sick on recommendation of the relief committee.

COLLIDED WITH A CAR.

Exciting Accident in Front of the Grand Last Evening.

A delivery wagon belonging to the Flack Produce Company, at No. 187 West Pearl street, collided with an electric car in front of the Grand Opera House yesterday evening. The team emerged from Wabash street at a rapid pace and the driver, unaware of the approach of a car, attempted to cross the track. By the collision the mules were detached from the wagon, and, taking fright, ran off. With a portion of the tongue and double trees dangling at their heels, the animals reached the Circle and made a detour of the monument several times before they were caught. The driver was thrown from the wagon to the street and struck on his head. His injuries

Will Talk on Catholicism. At St. Paul's Church, to-morrow, there will be two very interesting services. In the morning the rector will preach the last of the series of "Good Word Sermons." The subject will be "A Good Word for the Roman Catholic Church." Mr. Carstensen announced last Sunday that he would discuss thoroughly the attitude and plans of the A. P. A., and that if there were any members of that organization who were sensitive to the truth being spoken they had better remain away. Service begins at 10:45 a. m. At 7:30 at night Rev. Mr. Carstensen will preach a sermon to the medical students of the city. All physicians and students, as well as the general public, will be welcomed to both services.

After an Insurance Concern. The Fire Underwriters Policy of Chicago, an insurance concern, has been attempting to do business in this State, and has appointed a number of agents as individual underwriters, thereby seeking to evade paying taxes and other fees. N IMPROVEMENT IN THE MACHINery of business redounds to the general benefit, because it simplifies the system and makes it cost less. This is no less true as affecting matters of trust than in manufacturing, say. A corporation subject to frequent examination, and always under legal control, is more likely to do business well and cheap than individuals. It must do it well in order to succeed, and the volume of business will emble it to make very reasonable charges. Hence the popularity and general use of Trust Companies in cities where experience has shown their superiority.
